Teaching Notes: Counting to 20

When teaching your child to count to 20, take any opportunity you can to count.

You can ask your child to count aloud as you drive somewhere in the car. You can count things in books. You can count food/snacks. You can count with crayons or toys.

Just practice counting. Even fingers and toes work. The more practice your child gets counting, the better

.Let them count aloud to you and notice if they always skip the same number or stop at the same number and help them to correct their errors until counting to 20 is so easy, you have to go higher! :)
